Welcome to Orange County Flight Center, California, USA

A FAA Approved Pilot Training School
Under Code of Federal Regulations Title 14 Part 141
AND

The California State Approving Agency for Veteran's Education (CSSAVE) for training veterans and eligible persons under Title 38, U.S. Code.

Dear Student,

Welcome to Orange County Flight Center ("OCFC"), a pioneer and one of the oldest flight schools in California, established in 1981, and located at John Wayne Airport, Orange County, in the southern region of California. This pilot training institution was established to fulfill the growing need for well-trained and qualified aviators in the United States and to provide aviation professionals both for ground and flight opportunities within and outside of the United States.

With this legacy we have now created this program leading to a Commercial Pilot License consisting of a 40-hour Private Pilot Certification challenge under Part 141 of Code of Federal Regulations. A difficult but not impossible challenge that drives dedicated aviators to push their knowledge and perseverance to the max as this nation's next generation of pilots. By completing this challenge successfully, you will be defying the national average of aviators which is 70 hours of training. Our part 141 syllabus is a proven course and with proper dedication and concentration we believe it possible for the truly motivated to succeed at the minimum course requirements and excel in the subsequent courses.

Our well- trained and supervised flight instructors and other staff at OCFC are here to assist you through this program and help your progress any way we can. We take great pride in your success and are willing and able to provide you with the time, attention and support needed for success. This is just the beginning of a lifetime of opportunities within the aviation sector and we at OCFC welcome you to become a part of our culture and look forward to launching you into aviation.

On behalf of Orange County Flight Center, where excellence is a standard and flight safety comes first, we welcome you and wish you success.

From the OCFC Team of Administrators, Aviators and Pilots.

What Is the OCFC 40-Hour Private Pilot Certification Challenge

Essentially, if accepted, you have a maximum of 40-hours under our Title 14 Part 141 FAA approved Private Pilot Syllabus to successfully complete your Private Pilot training provided by our Certified Flight Instructors and successfully pass your final check ride conducted by a FAA Designated Pilot Examiner. Under this program, upon successful completion of your Private Pilot Training leading to a Private Pilot License issued by the Federal Aviation Administration you will be sponsored by OCFC to participate in your Instrument rating and Commercial Pilot License training under Part 141 and at not additional cost to you beyond non-tuition related expenses to be borne by you subject to a declaration, Qualifications, Terms, conditions and restrictions described later in this catalog.

Please Note: Unsuccessful Candidates-Students not completing their program in 40-hours (“UC”) will revert to PAY AS YOU GO (“PAYG”) mode of payment in terms of cost. Please also note, once enrolled in this program there will be no refunds under any circumstances at any time. LIMITED SEATS. Only serious candidates may apply to participate in this program.
